Message from the Chairman Board of Trustees

Democracy and the protection of human rights must be fought for with the greatest of determination as they will not emerge by themselves. Democracy and human rights are even embodied in the national motto of Indonesia, “Bhinneka Tunggal Ika” (Unity in Diversity). Indonesia is not only looking forward to developing issues surrounding our democracy and human rights at the local or national level but also wider at the regional and even international levels. The Habibie Center was established as a vehicle for the people of Indonesia to continue the process of developing issues surrounding democratization and human rights issues. Globally, the rise of populism, terrorism, and radicalization remain challenges that we must all face.

The year 2021 was a very dynamic and challenging year for our democratization. Rising tensions in the run up to simultaneous local elections provoked the rise of identity politics where religion, race, and group issues seemed to matter more than policies and exchange of ideas. In this sad situation, we should remind ourselves that this Republic was not built to represent only particular group. Our founding fathers aimed to provide a livable world for each and every Indonesia citizen who calls this archipelago their home. In connection to this, The Habibie Center is committed to be part of the solution.

As a vehicle for the people of Indonesia, we cannot do all of this alone in creating a better Indonesia. Thus, I call on all members of society - the government, civil society, the media, and the public - to join us, support us, and work with us under the rallying cry of “Democratization Must Go On!”

Democratization Must Go On!

Dr.-Ing. Ilham Akbar Habibie, M.B.A.

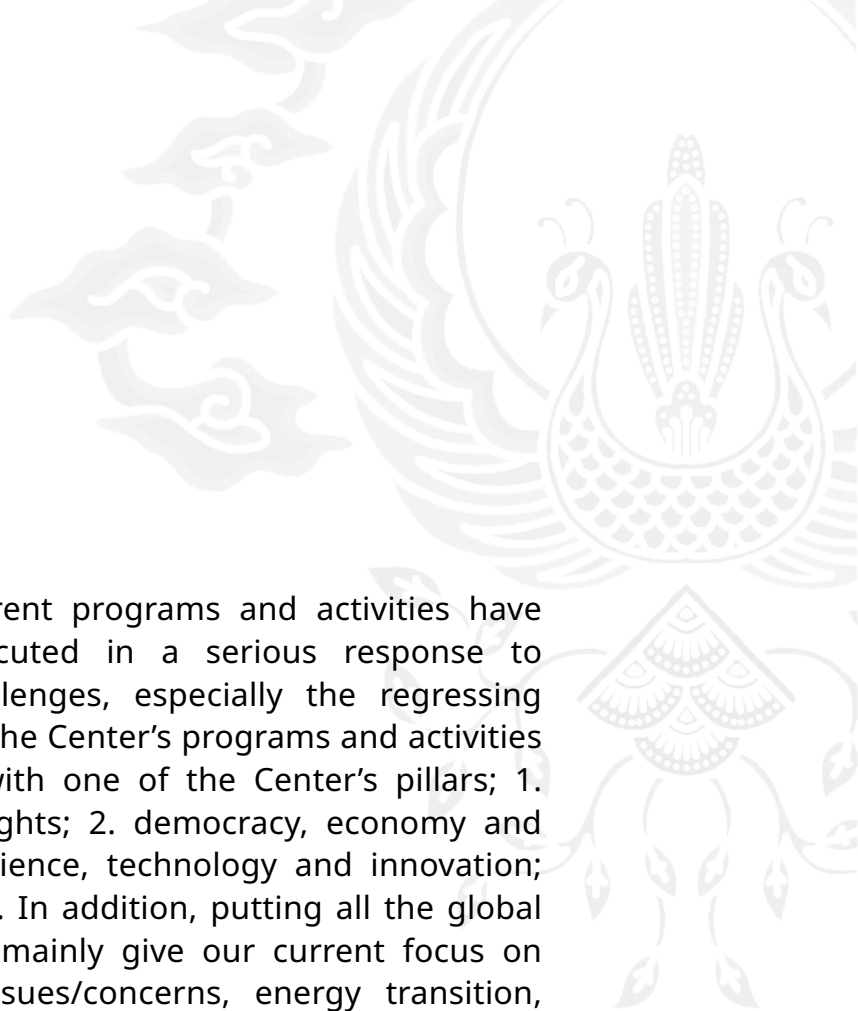

Foreword from the Executive Director

Over the past year, we have taken a number of strategic programs and activities, responding to our increasingly unpredictable and rapidly changing world. Over 22 years, we have consistently advanced our primary principle to promote the modernization and democratization of Indonesian society based on the morality and the integrity of sound cultural and religious values. We believe that democracy should be fought with determinism and not be taken granted. The world's biggest challenge now is not only related to the worsening global economy, deepening inhumanity, climate crisis, and diverse political security threats, but also importantly to declining democracy.

The global trend indicates that the world is getting less democratic. Many countries have reverted to authoritarianism, while in others, including established democracies, there are signs of deterioration in the quality of freedom. Between 1974 and 2005, a majority of states became democratic for the first time in history. Samuel P. Huntington would call the “third wave” of global democratization. However, a global democratic recession began in 2006 and has persisted –and deepened – over the past 19 years.

Mohammad Hasan Ansori, Ph.D.

The Habibie Center's current programs and activities have been designed and executed in a serious response to the global trend of challenges, especially the regressing democracy. The nature of the Center's programs and activities in essence are relevant with one of the Center's pillars; 1. democracy and human rights; 2. democracy, economy and ecology; 3. democracy, science, technology and innovation; and 4. maritime continent. In addition, putting all the global trends of challenges, we mainly give our current focus on at least four lines of issues/concerns, energy transition, democracy, politics and media, inclusive development, and peace and development. All of these concerns are further translated into our last and current programs and activities, taking the forms of seminars, public discussion series, policy research, policy briefs, roundtable discussions, capacity-building, and advocacy. Finally, this Annual Activity Report should be seen as the Center's management report to the public, society and partners and as the main instrument of management accountability.

To end, I would like to express my sincerest gratitude to all The Habibie Center's partners, donors and collaborators for their invaluable supports and contributions. I look forward to working with all The Habibie Center people and team to bring this think-tank to ever new heights and to be the main policy reference of national and global issues and challenges.

Webinar I, Covid-19, Democracy and Violent Extremism in Indonesia

22 February 2021

Indonesia is the country with the worst impact of the COVID-19 pandemic in the Southeast Asia region. As of February 1, 2021, the number of cases is 1,089,308 with 16.1% active cases and 30,277 deaths. The high number of COVID-19 cases is partly due to the slow response of the government. In coordination, inadequate inter-agency coordination, and conflicting policies between the central and regional governments.

Meanwhile, those imposed by the government have clogged the channels of democracy. Due to the prohibition of basic public space on gathering and carrying out activities. In addition, a large number of workers have experienced layoffs (layoffs) due to the economic impact of further limiting civilian space.

The above trend has experienced the crisis of Indonesian democracy. In the context of the threat from radicalism and violent extremism remains visible. Across the region, terrorist groups are sending emails to exploit the socio-economic crisis triggered by the pandemic. Currently the pandemic has provided new motives and targets for extremist groups in Indonesia.

To take a closer look at these problems, The Habibie Center collaborated with The Sasakawa Peace Foundation to hold a Webinar "COVID-19, Democracy and Violent Extremism in Indonesia "; on February 22, 2021, moderated by Imron Rasyid (Head of Peace and Development).

The speakers who attended were:

1. Sopar Peranto (Researcher-The Habibie Center)
2. Brigadier General. Pol. Ibnu Suhendar S.I.K (Policy Analyst, POLRI's Special Anti-Terror Detachment)

Lesson Learnt from Japan's experiences with Aum Shinrikyo: an Understanding of the Religious Background and a Psychological Approach to De-radicalization

8 March 2021

In the last two decades, discussions on extremism have often linked to certain beliefs or certain areas, particularly Islam. This condition is quite reasonable as many Islamic extremist groups claim their truth as the reason for carrying out terror attacks. Although many studies state that extremism/terrorism does not indicate certain beliefs, these extremist groups' claims create a stigma that certain beliefs and regions are synonymous with extremism. For example, in some western countries, the stigma of Islam as a terrorist religion has driven the rise of Islamophobia. It has created not only suspicion of the Muslim community but also discrimination and alienation.

Many countries in the world have experienced problems with extremism/terrorism threats, even among the top ranking of democratic or peaceful countries. One such example is Japan. A country known for its low crime rate had experienced a deadly terrorist attack on 20 March 1995, it is important to note that the sarin gas attack in 1995 was the last extremist attack experienced by Japan. This fact is interesting to discuss, especially concerning how Japan carried out the de-radicalization process towards religion-related extremism groups.

In collaboration with the Sasakawa Peace Foundation, the Habibie Centre will organize a webinar on 8 March 2021, to get a comparative picture by looking at Japan's experience in dealing with violent extremism in the past. Japan experienced religious extremism in the 1980s-1990s. After that period, however, Japan has been relatively successful in containing and managing the threats posed by violent extremist organizations.

Speakers:

1. Andhika Chrisna Yudhanto (Deputy III for International Cooperation of National Counterterrorism Agency/BNPT)
2. Susumu Shimazono (Director of the Institute of Grief Care, Sophia University, Professor Emeritus, University of Tokyo)

5. Chaula Rininta Anindya (Researcher PhD Student, Ritsumeikan University, Kyoto, Japan)

Webinar: The Rapid Fall of Afghan Government to Taliban Forces: What It Means for Indonesia

5 October 2021

On Wednesday, September 15, 2021, The Habibie Center focused on the Sasakawa Peace Foundation to hold a webinar entitled “Taliban Rule in Afghanistan: What Effect Does it Have on Indonesia?”. To explore the effects of the Taliban’s rise to power on global jihadism and Indonesian radical Islam, as the Taliban seized power in Afghanistan and took control of the capital, Kabul, after two decades since the Taliban were driven out by the United States. Despite the positive impression they hope for, many Afghans are still skeptical, given the previous Taleban that took place in the late 1990s. Meanwhile, the international community fears that the Taliban’s takeover of power will motivate global jihadists around the world, especially since almost all of Al Qaeda’s provision is openly congratulating and celebrating. Indonesia, the world’s largest Muslim-majority country, fears that a Taliban victory could give local extremist groups more courage. The National Intelligence Agency (BIN) said that developments at the global and regional levels were influencing the movement of militant groups in Indonesia. This concern was raised when BIN has begun to track down several groups in Indonesia that have close ties to the Taliban.

Speakers:

1. Kombes Pol. Mochamad Rosidi, S.IK, M.H. (Director of Prevention of Anti-Terror Detachment 88 Polri)
2. Muhammad Suaib Tahir (Deputy for Prevention of the National Counter-Terrorism Agency (BNPT))

4. Nasir Abbas (Terrorist Observer, DASPR/Formal Head of Jemaah Islamiyah (JI) Eastern Region).
